Contactless Thermometer

Quick and contact-free measurement of patient temperatures

In departments where speed and efficiency are crucial, the Mindray Contactless Thermometer is a reliable tool for measuring patient temperature.

Enhance staff productivity

- Measurements are obtained in seconds, and instantly transferred to the VS9 Vital Signs Workstation for maximum workflow efficiency
- No probe covers required, or cleaning between patients to help save time and cost
- Very simple to learn and use

Less invasive for a more comfortable patient experience

- Contactless infrared sensor reads temperatures at 5-15cm from forehead no patient skin contact helps minimise the risk of cross-contamination
- Minimal patient involvement to quickly determine patient temperature

Mindray Contactless Thermometer

Ideal Care Settings and Uses

- > Emergency Department
- > Outpatients
- > General Ward
- > Covid Screening

For care settings, such as critical care and during the preoperative period, when the forehead site may not track with core temperature changes, the HeTaida Contactless Thermometer is not recommended.
